

Curiosity

Written by 6W

My curious thoughts are made from-
A combination where there are infinite possibilities,
But the numbers keep drifting away.
Like an unescapable dream that might hold the answer
To an endless tale of mystery and unanswered questions.

I found it –
Trapped inside a box which holds a riddle,
In the centre of a maze with limitless potential
A whirlpool of spirits that troubles your puzzled mind
Which leads you to corridors of bewilderment and perplexity

Curiosity can-
Open an unlockable series of cryptic secrets
Leading you to a wilderness of invisibility,
Enlightening your imagination to reveal a pit of endless whispers.

If curiosity is lost–
A closed door is a recipe for an inquisitive mind
But when opened too quickly, aspiration dissolves.
Rainbows don't have a purpose in a world of despair.
Ambition is the key to illuminate the future.
